Kyle Prescott accepted the position of Director of Bands at FAU in 2004, and was tasked with developing a comprehensive university bands program, including a graduate conducting program and marching band. As the university and the Department of Music have experienced exceptional growth, the University Bands have grown as well, with the number of wind and percussion majors quadrupling since 2004. Sean Murray assumed the position of Associate Director of Bands in 2006, directing the new FAU Marching Owls to compliment the university's flourishing FBS football program. In 2008 the Wind Ensemble accepted an invitation to perform at the CBDNA Southern Division conference in Columbus, Georgia, the first such conference performance in the history of the band.

As the Director of Bands and Coordinator of Winds and Percussion at Florida Atlantic University Dr. Prescott's responsibilities include conducting the University Wind Ensemble and coordinating all aspects of a comprehensive university bands program, as well as teaching graduate instrumental conducting. He holds an undergraduate degree from the Lionel Hampton School of Music at the University of Idaho, and the Master of Music and the Doctor of Musical Arts degrees in Wind Conducting from The University of Texas at Austin, where his principal conducting teacher was Jerry F. Junkin.

Prior to his work at The University of Texas, Dr. Prescott conducted high school and university bands in Idaho and Montana, where ensembles under his direction twice performed at the Northwest Division Convention of MENC. In addition to graduate study, he has worked with noted conductors at fourteen different international conducting symposia and workshops, and such composers as Arthur Weisberg and Libby Larsen have praised his conducted performances of new music for winds. He is active as an adjudicator, clinician and guest conductor and maintains memberships in several professional organizations.
